Dhawn and Brita Up Close

Dhawn earned a degree in Finance, minor in Psychology from Rutgers University and was Vice President of Operations for a global manufacturing company. When Dhawn isn't working, she is traveling abroad with her husband and working toward the status of 'World's Greatest Aunt'.

Brita earned a Bachelors and Masters in Business from California State University Long Beach, where she also played volleyball on a full scholarship. After retiring from Professional Volleyball, Brita worked as a Program Manager for one of the largest golf companies in the world. Outside of work, Brita enjoys traveling with her husband and daughter.

Dhawn Hansen, CPO® and Brita Bolane, CPO® are the owners of Hansen Bolane Consulting, Inc. and the founders of the Hansen Bolane Center for Productivity and Efficiency. They are highly sought after business productivity and efficiency specialists and are often quoted on TV, radio and in print. Hansen and Bolane are consultants, authors and speakers based in San Diego, California. As trusted advisors, they provide insight on business processes, productivity and efficiency optimization, time management, goal achievement and process flow analysis.

Hansen and Bolane are dynamic speakers and have presented valuable insight on topics such as productivity, time management, goal setting and project management at workshops, seminars and 'lunch n learn' events around the country. Dhawn and Brita have presented to Palomar Pomerado Health, Scripps Health, Women in Business, California State University San Marcos and the Council on Literacy, to name a few. Hansen Bolane Consulting speaking engagements yield exciting results and calls to action.

Hansen and Bolane serve as officers on the Board of several organizations including the National Association of Professional Organizers (NAPO) San Diego chapter. Dhawn and Brita are also passionate about giving back and volunteer with the Make-A-Wish Foundation in San Diego.
